

PETITIONING TO GRADUATE AS A JOURNALISM MAJOR

Journalism students who have petitioned to graduate in Fall 2016 have a choice to make. You may petition to graduate as a Communication major (with a Journalism and Emerging Media concentration) OR petition to graduate with a major in Journalism and Emerging Media.

You have a small window in which to change from the COM to Journalism major for graduation purposes. Interested students must contact their faculty adviser ASAP but before Aug. 15 (email is sufficient) to request that their catalog year be changed to 2016 (allowing them to graduate with the Journalism major). Changing catalog year may mean that minimal course substitutions be submitted by the faculty adviser to be approved by the assistant chair.

This is a one-time change for those graduating in the fall. These students must decide if they want to graduate with a Communication degree or Journalism degree. All course substitutions required by the change to a 2016 catalog year must be completed by the School before the end of drop/add, Aug. 15-21. After that, no degree changes will be permitted for fall graduates.

The last day to petition for fall semester graduation is July 1.
